FERPA Disclosure

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) (20 U.S.C. § 1232g; 34 CFR Part 99) is a Federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education.

Warning: Student records are private. The student information you are accessing is protected under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). This information is only for the use of Georgia Institute of Technology (Georgia Tech) officials with legitimate educational interests. The information contained within this data portfolio is for internal use only and is not to be shared with third parties or published without prior permission from the Georgia Tech Office of the Registrar. These warnings apply to all program reviewers who are operating as agents of Georgia Tech and are therefore bound to the same standards of ensuring the data remain for internal, educational purposes only and are securely stored.

All other access, use, distribution, or release of these records is prohibited.

For more information please go to: http://www.catalog.gatech.edu/genregulations/ferpa.php

Purpose

The Office of Institutional Research & Planning (IRP) has been charged with assisting in the Academic Program Review (APR) process. The purpose of the APR process is to conduct a strategic evaluation of each academic program every five years. The role of IRP is to provide a data portfolio at the onset of the review to aid in the self-study process. As such, a portfolio for the Psychology program in the College of Sciences is being provided which includes data on students, faculty, staff, space, and finance. Programs include: Psychology. Data reflect the most recent five years or most recent five fiscal years: 2013 through 2018, unless otherwise indicated. NOTE that Fall 2017 data is preliminary. Final numbers will be available after the Fall 2017 census.
